The image shows a vertical column of eight identical horizontal rows. Each row consists of a series of white hexagons arranged in a staggered, overlapping pattern. The hexagons are set against a solid dark green background. The overall effect is a clean, modern, and repetitive geometric design.

The image shows a vertical column of ten identical horizontal rows. Each row consists of a repeating pattern of white hexagons and black triangles. The pattern is created by overlapping the edges of the hexagons, which results in a series of black triangular voids pointing downwards between the hexagons. This creates a rhythmic, tessellated effect across the entire height of the image.
